EDX London Limited IT Notice 020/07 - Change of decimal place size for Russian OTC trade reporting – Amendment.

31 July 2007

EDX London would like to inform its member that due to system rescheduling, the launch date for the above will now be Monday, 20 August 2007. Testing will go ahead this week as planned and some ad-hoc testing will be available between now and the new launch date.

Change of decimal place size for Russian OTC trade reporting.

EDX London wishes to inform its members that from Monday, 6 August 2007, it will be possible to report Russian OTC trades to 4 decimal places instead of the existing 2. EDX London is responding to customer demand to accept Russian OTC trade reports with 4 decimals.

Effects on Static/Reference data.

Only new active contracts will be changed, expired contracts will not be affected.

Effects on Post trade data.

For all trades available in the central clearing database (contracts remain 25 days after expiry), the decimals in the price will be changed from 2 to 4. This will be shown in future trade broadcast BD4, and in the queries for trades CA1, CA10, CA2, CA11 and CA58, field deal_price_i.

Changes to EDX London's Rules and Regulations reflecting this change will be issued shortly.

Testing

EDX London will assist its members by entering positions into its simulation environment SEOMMC over the testing period of 31 July until 2 August inclusive. Any member who wishes to participate will need to connect their back-office applications to the simulation environment and contact EDX London IT Member Services to ensure that trade reports are entered on their behalf. Simulation environment SEOMMC shuts at 13:00 UK time for trade reporting. If you are unaware of your connection details then please contact EDX London IT Member Services.
